Manual for Complex Litigation §13.14 (4th ed. 2004) 7

1 Plaintiff Angel Aguiar (“Plaintiff”) respectfully submits this Memorandum
 2 of Law in Support of her Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class
 3 Action Settlement. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e), Plaintiff
 4 seeks the entry of an Order: (i) granting preliminary approval of the proposed 5 Class Settlement Agreement¹ filed concurrently herewith as Exhibit 1 to the 6 Declaration of Amanda F. Lawrence (“Lawrence Decl.”); (ii) conditionally 7 certifying the Settlement Class for purposes of such settlement and appointing 8 Plaintiff as representative for the Settlement Class; (iii) approving Plaintiff’s 9 selection of Class Counsel; (iv) approving the proposed notice plan; and (v) setting 10 a hearing date for final approval of the Settlement.

11 I. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

12 A. Summary of Plaintiff’s Claims

13 This case arises out of alleged deceptive and misleading marketing of Pure 14 Via products. ¶1.² Plaintiff alleges Merisant Company (“Merisant”) and Whole 15 Earth Sweetener Company LLC (“Whole Earth”) (collectively, “Defendants”) label, 16 advertise, and otherwise market Pure Via products and their ingredients as 17 natural sweeteners primarily made from the stevia plant. ¶5. Plaintiff claims the 18 labeling of Pure Via as a natural sweetener is deceptive, misleading, and false.
 19 ¶¶22-28. By this conduct, Plaintiff alleges consumers were injured and Defendants 20 breached warranties to consumers and violated consumer protection statutes in 21 forty states plus the District of Columbia as well as the California Business and 22 Professions Code. ¶¶60-144.

25 ¹ Unless otherwise defined herein, all capitalized terms have the meaning 26 ascribed to them in the Class Settlement Agreement (“Settlement Agreement”).

27 ² All “¶__” and “¶¶__” references are to the Complaint (filed Jan. 28, 2014).

B. Procedural History

On January 28, 2014, Plaintiff filed her Complaint (the “Action”) in the Central District of California. ¶1. Defendants filed a motion to dismiss the Complaint on February 21, 2014 (ECF No. 14), which Plaintiff opposed on March 3, 2014 (ECF No. 26). The Court denied, in part, and granted (as to the unjust enrichment claims) Defendants’ motion to dismiss the Complaint on March 24, 2014 (ECF No. 56), and Defendants filed an Answer to the Complaint on May 22, 2014 (ECF No. 70) in which they denied wrongdoing.

Plaintiff served discovery requests on Defendants on March 21 and March 27, 2014, and Defendants served discovery requests on Plaintiff on March 21 and March 28, 2014. Lawrence Decl., ¶3. The Parties proceeded to engage in formal discovery, including the production of thousands of pages of documents. Id. Plaintiff issued five subpoenas on third-party marketers and retailers of Pure Via. Id., ¶4. Plaintiff also took a Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(b)(6) deposition of the Defendants on May 14, 2014. Id., ¶5. Shortly thereafter, on May 27, 2014, Plaintiff was deposed. Id., ¶6. Two days later, Plaintiff filed her motion for class certification, including two expert reports, (ECF No. 71) which Defendants opposed on June 30, 2014, likewise submitting two expert reports (ECF No. 86). In between those dates, Defendants took lengthy depositions of each of Plaintiff’s experts. Lawrence Decl., ¶7. On the same date that Defendants opposed Plaintiff’s motion for class certification, they likewise filed a motion to deny class certification (ECF No. 85). One week later, Plaintiff opposed that motion. (ECF No. 89). Plaintiff’s counsel was prepared to depose Defendants’ class certification experts on July 9 and 10, 2014, but, as discussed below, the Parties were able to reach an agreement in principle to resolve the case prior to those dates. Lawrence Decl., ¶8. Therefore, on July 14, 2014, Plaintiff withdrew her motion for class certification (ECF No. 104), and, at the same time, Defendants withdrew their motion to deny

1 class certification (ECF No. 105). Both motions were withdrawn without 2 prejudice, in anticipation of pursuing this Class Settlement Agreement.

3 C. Settlement Negotiations

4 During the intense motion and discovery practice for class certification, the 5 Parties began to discuss settlement. Beginning on April 29, 2014, Plaintiff's 6 counsel and Defendants' counsel had numerous telephonic discussions surrounding 7 resolution of the case. Lawrence Decl., ¶9. The Parties monitored the settlement 8 negotiations in a similar case, Howerton v. Cargill, Inc., No. 1:13-cv-00336-LEK-
9 BMK (D. Haw.) and Martin and Barry, et al. v. Cargill, Inc., No. 1:14-cv-00218-10 LEK-BMK (D. Haw.) and continued to discuss a similar resolution of this case.
11 As discussed above, these discussions occurred while the Parties were engaged in 12 hard fought and intense litigation of the matter, which included extensive 13 document review and numerous depositions, including of highly reputable experts.
14 Ultimately, on July 8, 2014, counsel for Plaintiff and counsel for Defendants 15 reached a resolution in principle of the case and informed the Court of the 16 existence of a Memorandum of Understanding outlining the terms of the 17 Settlement. Lawrence Decl., ¶10.

18 II. THE TERMS OF THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

19 In exchange for a release by Settlement Class Members of claims related to 20 Defendants' labeling, marketing, and advertising of Pure Via, Defendants have 21 agreed to undertake several important remedial measures. First, to remedy the 22 alleged misrepresentations on the Pure Via product labels, Defendants have agreed 23 to changes in their marketing and labeling. Second, Defendants will contribute 24 $1.65 million into an independently-administered settlement fund, which will be 25 used to compensate Pure Via consumers who allegedly were misled by 26 Defendants' past labeling practices, as well as to disseminate notice to the 27 Settlement Class such that affected persons may avail themselves of this remedial monetary payment. Third, Defendants agree to certification of the Settlement Class for purposes of achieving settlement.

A. Defendants Agree to Pay a Substantial Sum into a Fund to Compensate Consumers Who Purchased Pure Via

Under the terms of the Settlement Agreement, Settlement Class Members who submit valid claims will receive cash in an amount ranging from $5.00 to $30.00, based on the dollar amount, or the number, of their purchases during the Class Period. (§4.3, 4.4).³ If, after the payment of all valid claims and all other costs and fees specified in the Agreement, any Residual Fund remains in the Settlement Fund, each claim shall be proportionately increased on a pro rata basis up to one hundred percent (100%) of the eligible Settlement Class Member's Initial Claim Amount. (§4.5(a)). Conversely, if the Settlement Fund is insufficient to cover all valid claims and all other costs and fees, each Claim shall be reduced on a pro rata basis. (§4.5(b)). If any funds remain in the Settlement Fund balance following this calculation, then, upon motion by Plaintiff and upon approval by the Court pursuant to the cy pres doctrine, the Settlement Administrator shall distribute the Residual Fund to the American Diabetes Association (§4.5(c)). The Residual Fund will not be returned to Defendants. (Id.).

B. Defendants Agree to Changes in the Labeling of Pure Via

The Settlement requires Defendants to modify the labeling of Pure Via and to modify the purevia.com website. (§§4.6, 4.7). Specifically, Defendants will add an asterisk on Pure Via packaging, along with adding the following statement, or something substantially similar, below the ingredients panel or somewhere of equal or greater prominence: either “*For more information about our ingredients go to purevia.com” or “*For more information about our natural standard go to purevia.com” (§4.6).

³ All “§__” and “§§__” references are to the Settlement Agreement.

1 Defendants also agree to make significant additions to the purevia.com
2 website to further explain the manufacturing processes for the ingredients in Pure 3 Via (§4.7). The purevia.com FAQ website modifications will include significant 4 additions that will provide information regarding Pure Via, the processes for 5 making it, its ingredients, and why Defendants believe it is natural. (See id.). With 6 these additions, consumers will be further able to obtain information regarding the 7 source and processing of the ingredients in Pure Via. The injunctive relief 8 provides consumers with significant information to make their own determination 9 as to whether they deem Pure Via to be “natural.”

10 C. Defendants Agree to Class Certification for Settlement
11 Purposes Only

12 Plaintiff seeks class certification pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a) and (b)(3), 13 and Defendants agree to certification of the proposed Settlement Class for purposes 14 of achieving this Settlement. Defendants have reserved all of their objections to 15 class certification for litigation purposes and have reserved all rights to challenge 16 certification of a class in this case in the event final approval of the Settlement does 17 not occur.

18 D. Defendants Will Pay Plaintiff’s Incentive Award and Court-
19 Awarded Attorneys’ Fees and Expenses

20 The Settlement Agreement provides that Plaintiff’s Counsel may apply for 21 an award of reasonable Attorney’s Fees and Expenses not to exceed 30% of the 22 total sum of the Settlement Fund, and an Incentive Award to the Plaintiff of up to 23 $4,000.00. (§§8.1, 8.5). Defendants agree not to oppose these applications. (§8.4).

24 III. THE COURT SHOULD PRELIMINARILY APPROVE THE 25 SETTLEMENT

26 Plaintiff’s Counsel has worked diligently to reach the proposed Settlement 27 and believes the claims resolved in the proposed Settlement have merit. Lawrence

1 Decl., ¶13. Plaintiff and her counsel recognize, however, the expense and length 2 of continued proceedings necessary to prosecute the claims through trial and 3 appeal and has taken into account the uncertain outcome and risk of litigation, as 4 well as the difficulties and delays inherent in such litigation. Plaintiff's Counsel 5 has evaluated the various state consumer protection laws, as well as the legal 6 landscape, to determine the strength of the claims, the likelihood of success, and 7 the parameters within which courts have assessed settlements similar to the instant 8 Settlement. Lawrence Decl., ¶11. Based on the above-described evaluation, 9 Plaintiff's Counsel has determined that the Settlement is fair, reasonable, and 10 adequate and in the best interest of the Settlement Class. (Id.).

11 Defendants have denied, and continue to deny, that their labeling of Pure 12 Via is false, deceptive, or misleading to consumers or violates any legal 13 requirement. Defendants' willingness to resolve this Action on the terms and 14 conditions embodied in the Settlement is based on, inter alia: (i) the time and 15 expense associated with litigating this Action through trial and any appeals; (ii) the 16 benefits of resolving the Action, including limiting further expense, inconvenience, 17 and distraction, disposing of burdensome litigation, and permitting Defendants to 18 conduct their business unhampered by the distractions of continued litigation; and 19 (iii) the uncertainty and risk inherent in any litigation.

20 A. Legal Standard

21 "The Ninth Circuit has stated that 'there is an overriding public interest in 22 settling and quieting litigation,' and this is 'particularly true in class action suits.'" Lundell v. Dell, Inc., No. C05-3970 JWRS, 2006 WL 3507938, at *2 (N.D. Cal.
23 Dec. 5, 2006) (citing Van Bronkhorst v. Safeco Corp., 529 F.2d 943, 950 (9th Cir.
24 1976)); Linney v. Cellular Alaska P'ship, 151 F.3d 1234, 1238 (9th Cir. 1998).
25 Approval of a class action settlement is a two-step process; first, the court enters a 26 preliminary approval order, and second, following notice of the proposed 27

1 settlement to the class and a final fairness hearing, the court enters a final approval
2 order. West v. Circle K Stores, Inc., No. Civ. S-04-0438 WBS GGH, 2006 WL
3 1652598, at *2 (E.D. Cal. June 13, 2006); Manual for Complex Litigation §13.14
4 (4th ed. 2004). By this motion, Plaintiff requests that the Court take the first step 5 and preliminarily approve the proposed Settlement, thereby allowing notice of the 6 Settlement and the final approval hearing to be sent to the Settlement Class.

7 A district court may approve a class action settlement only after determining 8 it is “fair, reasonable, and adequate.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2). In making this 9 determination, a court should consider: (1) the strength of plaintiff’s case; (2) the 10 risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation; (3) the risk of 11 maintaining class action status throughout the trial; (4) the amount offered in 12 settlement; (5) the extent of discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings; 13 (6) the experience and views of counsel; (7) the presence of a governmental 14 participant; and (8) the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.
15 Churchill Vill., LLC v. Gen. Elec., 361 F.3d 566, 576-77 (9th Cir. 2004). As 16 explained by the court in West, “[g]iven that some of these factors cannot be fully 17 assessed until the court conducts its fairness hearing, ‘a full fairness analysis is 18 unnecessary at [the preliminary approval] stage[.]’” 2006 WL 1652598, at *9.⁴
19 Accordingly, when determining whether to grant preliminary approval, the Court 20 should “simply conduct a cursory review of the terms of the parties’ settlement for 21 the purpose of resolving any glaring deficiencies before ordering the parties to 22 send the proposal to class members.” Id. Preliminary approval of a settlement and 23 notice to the class is appropriate if “the proposed settlement appears to be [1] the 24 product of serious, informed, noncollusive negotiations, [2] has no obvious 25 deficiencies, [3] does not improperly grant preferential treatment to class 26 representatives or segments of the class, and [4] falls within the range of possible

27 ⁴ Unless otherwise indicated, all citations are omitted and emphasis is added.

1 approval” In re Tableware Antitrust Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d 1078, 1079
2 (N.D. Cal. 2007). Even though the Court need not, at the preliminary approval 3 stage, assess the final approval factors, a review of those factors shows that this 4 Settlement merits preliminary approval.

5 B. The Factors Weigh in Favor of Granting Preliminary Approval

6 1. The Settlement Is the Result of Arm’s-Length Negotiations

7 The courts of this Circuit “put a good deal of stock in the product of an 8 arms-length, non-collusive, negotiated resolution . . . and have never prescribed a 9 particular formula by which that outcome must be tested.” Rodriguez v. W. Publ’g 10 Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 965 (9th Cir. 2009). This Settlement was achieved after 11 numerous negotiations by the Parties on behalf of their respective clients and only 12 after multiple settlement proposals were exchanged, rejected, and then modified 13 prior to being accepted. Lawrence Decl., ¶9. As detailed above, Plaintiff’s 14 Counsel obtained extensive information and documents from Defendants through 15 in-depth discovery and depositions. Through this, Plaintiff’s Counsel obtained a 16 full understanding of the processing of Pure Via’s ingredients, which Defendants 17 used as a basis for its labeling. Lawrence Decl., ¶11. A presumption of fairness 18 arises when a settlement is negotiated at arm’s length by well-informed counsel.
19 Nigh v. Humphreys Pharmacal, Inc., No. 12cv2714-MMA-DHB, 2013 WL
20 5995382, at *7 (S.D. Cal. Oct. 23, 2013).

21 2. The Strength of Plaintiff’s Case and Risk, Expense,
22 Complexity, and Likely Duration of Further Litigation

23 In this case, Plaintiff is confident in the strength of her claims. Plaintiff 24 nonetheless recognizes that Defendants have several factual and legal defenses 25 that, if successful, would defeat or substantially impair the value of Plaintiff’s 26 claims. Defendants have denied, and continue to deny, any liability and maintain 27 that their current labeling is truthful and not misleading. Indeed, Defendants have

1 vigorously opposed certification of a litigation class, arguing (among other things) 2 that the class is not ascertainable and the class cannot be certified nationwide.

3 Litigation to date has been costly, and certainly further litigation would be 4 costly, complex, and time consuming. Such litigation could include dispositive 5 motions; further contested class certification proceedings and appeals; more costly 6 nationwide discovery, including dozens more depositions; and trial. Each step 7 towards summary judgment and trial would likely be subject to Defendants' 8 vigorous opposition and appeal. "Avoiding such a trial and the subsequent appeals 9 in this complex case strongly militates in favor of settlement rather than further 10 protracted and uncertain litigation." Nat'l Rural Telecomms. Coop. v. DirecTV, 11 Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 527 (C.D. Cal. 2004).

12 3. The Risk of Maintaining Class Action Status through Trial

13 Although Plaintiff feels confident that class certification would be granted, 14 Defendants have actively contested class certification. Should the class be 15 certified and this Settlement not approved, Defendants could file an interlocutory 16 appeal. This raises further risk that the class may be decertified. As the average 17 price of each Pure Via Consumer Product is around $4.00, it is unlikely that any 18 individual plaintiff would pursue litigation to recover this amount. As such, a class 19 action represents consumers' best chance for recovery. Given this risk, this factor 20 weighs in favor of preliminary approval. See, e.g., Nigh, 2013 WL 5995382, at *7 21 (finding factor favored approval where defendants represented they would 22 vigorously contest class certification).

23 4. The Amount Offered in Settlement

24 "[T]he very essence of a settlement is compromise, 'yielding of absolutes 25 and an abandoning of highest hopes.'" Officers for Justice v. Civil Service Com'n 26 of City and Cnty of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 624 (9th Cir. 1982). Thus, "[i]t 27 is well-settled law that a cash settlement amounting to only a fraction of the 1 potential recovery will not per se render the settlement inadequate or unfair.” Id. at 2 628. “This is particularly true in cases, such as this, where monetary relief is but 3 one form of the relief requested by the plaintiffs.” Id. “It is the complete package 4 taken as a whole, rather than the individual component parts, that must be 5 examined for overall fairness.” Id.

6 At trial, Plaintiff would pursue judgment against Defendant seeking, inter 7 alia, restitution for Class Members and injunctive relief. As outlined above, this is 8 the precise relief the Settlement provides to the Settlement Class - $1.65 million in 9 monetary relief for the Class as well as injunctive relief. The Settlement enables 10 Settlement Class Members who purchased even one Pure Via product to receive 11 $5.00, which is more than the average Pure Via Consumer Product’s price.
12 (§4.4(c)). This relief may not have been available had the Settlement not been 13 reached.

14 Furthermore, Defendants agreed to make significant label changes, including 15 qualification of the “natural” representations with detailed explanations of how 16 Pure Via is made and how the stevia leaf extract in Pure Via is produced. (§4.6).
17 Thus, the $1.65 million settlement and meaningful injunctive relief is fair and 18 reasonable for resolution of these claims. See supra Part IV.B.2; §4.1(a).

19 5. The Stage of the Proceedings

20 As discussed above, thousands of documents were obtained through 21 discovery. Lawrence Decl., ¶3. In addition, numerous depositions were taken in 22 this case, including two expert depositions. Id., ¶7. Through this discovery, 23 Plaintiff’s Counsel obtained a full understanding of the processing of Pure Via’s 24 ingredients, which Defendants used as a basis for their labeling. Lawrence Decl., 25 ¶11. Thus, this factor also weighs in favor of preliminary approval. See, e.g., 26 Nigh, 2013 WL 5995382, at *7.

6. The Experience and Views of Counsel

“‘Great weight’ is accorded to the recommendation of counsel, who are most closely acquainted with the facts of the underlying litigation.” Nat’l Rural Telecomm. Coop., 221 F.R.D. at 528. Counsel for all parties are highly experienced in complex class action litigation. All counsel have been privy to the entirety of the record in this case. They have reviewed the discovery provided and approved the attached Settlement Agreement. It is the collective opinion of Class Counsel that the attached Settlement is in the best interest of the Settlement Class. Thus, this factor weighs in favor of preliminary approval.

7. The Presence of a Governmental Participant

This factor is irrelevant. There has been no government action in this matter, which is a dispute between private entities.

8. The Reaction of the Class Members to the Settlement

Plaintiff has agreed to the settlement terms and has signed the Settlement Agreement. Formal notice to the Settlement Class will be provided upon preliminary approval by the Court. Thus, this factor is more appropriately weighed at the final approval stage. See, e.g., Rodriguez v. D.M. Camp & Sons, 1:09-CV-00700-AWI-JLT, 2012 WL 6115651, at *8 (E.D. Cal. Dec. 7, 2012).

IV. THE COURT SHOULD CONDITIONALLY CERTIFY THE SETTLEMENT CLASS

A. The Proposed Settlement Class

For settlement purposes only, Plaintiff requests that the Court conditionally certify pursuant to Rule 23 the Settlement Class defined as:

All persons who, during the Class Period, both resided in the United States and purchased in the United States any of the Pure Via Consumer Products for their household use or personal consumption and not for resale. Excluded from the Settlement Class and

1 Settlement Class Members are: (a) Merisant's board members or 2 executive-level officers, including its attorneys; (b) governmental 3 entities; (c) the Court, the Court's immediate family, and Court staff; 4 and (d) any person that timely and properly excludes himself or 5 herself from the Settlement Class in accordance with the procedures
6 approved by the Court.
7 (§§2.12, 2.29).

8 As discussed below, the proposed Settlement Class satisfies all of the Rule 9 23 certification requirements.

10 B. Legal Standard

11 To certify the Settlement Class, the Rule 23(a), and at least one prong of the 12 Rule 23(b), criteria need to be satisfied. See Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 13 U.S. 591, 614 (1997); see Leyva v. Medline Indus. Inc., 716 F.3d 510, 512 (9th Cir.
14 2013). Rule 23(a) provides that an action may be maintained as a class action if: 15 “(1) the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, (2) there 16 are questions of law or fact common to the class, (3) the claims or defenses of the 17 representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class, and (4) the 18 representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class.” 19 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a); see, Leyva v. Medline Industries Inc., 716 F.3d 510, 512 (9th 20 Cir. 2013). As is relevant here, the Rule 23(b)(3) requirements have been distilled 21 into two general elements, commonly referred to as the “predominance” and 22 “superiority” requirements. Id. at 512. The Settlement Class satisfies each Rule 23 23 requirement.

24 C. The Settlement Class Satisfies the Requirements of Rule 23(a)

25 1. The Class Is Sufficiently Numerous

26 Rule 23(a)(1) requires that the class be “so numerous that joinder of all 27 members is impracticable.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1). “Courts have routinely found

1 the numerosity requirement satisfied when the class comprises 40 or more
2 members.” Ma v. Covidien Holding, Inc., SACV 12-02161-DOC, 2014 WL 3 360196, at *2 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 31, 2014). Here, Defendants have admitted that 4 more than 40 different consumers purchased Pure Via products during the Class
5 Period, (Lawrence Decl., ¶3) and it is estimated that the Settlement Class Members 6 number over one million. Declaration of Jeffrey Dahl with respect to Settlement 7 Notice Plan. (“Dahl Decl.”), ¶11. This easily exceeds the threshold for 8 establishing numerosity.

9 2. Common Questions of Law and Fact Exist

10 For Plaintiff to maintain a class action, there must be “common questions of 11 law or fact among members of the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(2). “[T]he key 12 inquiry is not whether the plaintiffs have raised common questions, ‘even in 13 droves,’ but rather, whether class treatment will ‘generate common answers apt to 14 drive the resolution of the litigation.” Abdullah v. U.S. Sec. Assoc., Inc., 731 F.3d 15 952, 957 (9th Cir. 2013) (quoting Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Dukes, 131 S. Ct. 2541, 16 2551, 180 L. Ed. 2d 374 (2011)) (emphasis in original). “This does not, however, 17 mean that every question of law or fact must be common to the class; all that Rule 18 23(a)(2) requires is ‘a single significant question of law or fact.’” Id. (emphasis in 19 original).

20 Here, the determination of the following common questions will resolve 21 issues central to the validity of Plaintiff’s and Settlement Class members’ claims: 22 (i) whether Defendants’ marketing, advertising, labeling, and selling of Pure Via 23 constitute (a) an unfair, unlawful, or fraudulent practice and (b) false advertising; 24 (ii) whether Defendants materially misrepresented to the Class members that Pure 25 Via is “natural,” (iii) whether Defendants’ alleged misrepresentations and 26 omissions were material to reasonable consumers, and (iv) whether Defendants’ 27 alleged conduct injured consumers and, if so, the extent of the injury. These

1 common issues of law and fact satisfy Rule 23(a)(2)'s commonality test. See, e.g.,
2 Forcellati v. Hyland's, Inc., CV 12-1983-GHK(MRWx), 2014 WL 1410264, at *9
3 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 9, 2014); Nigh, 2013 WL 5995382, at *4.

4 3. Plaintiff's Claims Are Typical of Those of the Class

5 Rule 23(a)(3) requires "the claims and defenses of the representative parties 6 [to be] typical of the claims or defenses of the class." Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(3).
7 Representative claims are typical if they are "reasonably coextensive with those of 8 absent class members; they need not be substantially identical." Dukes v. Walmart, 9 Inc., 509 F.3d 1168, 1184 (9th Cir. 2007). "In determining whether typicality is 10 met, the focus should be 'on the defendants' conduct and the plaintiff's legal 11 theory,' not the injury caused to the plaintiff." Simpson v. Fireman's Fund Ins.
12 Co., 231 F.R.D. 391, 396 (N.D. Cal. 2005). Typicality is met here as Plaintiff and 13 the proposed Class assert the same claims arising from the same factual predicate:
14 that is, Defendants' marketing and labeling of a purportedly "all natural" sugar 15 alternative that Plaintiff alleges contains synthetic ingredients and is heavily 16 chemically processed.

17 4. Adequate Representation Is Satisfied

18 Finally, Plaintiff must demonstrate that "the representative parties will fairly 19 and adequately protect the interests of the class." Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(4). The 20 Ninth Circuit established a two prong test for this requirement: "(1) [d]o the 21 representative plaintiffs and their counsel have any conflicts of interest with other 22 class members and (2) will the representative plaintiffs and their counsel prosecute 23 the action vigorously on behalf of the class?" Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 24 957 (9th Cir. 2003). Absent evidence to the contrary, a proposed class 25 representative's adequacy of representation is presumed. Californians for 26 Disability Rights, Inc. v. California Dep't of Transp., 249 F.R.D. 334, 349 (N.D.
27 Cal. 2008).

1 Here, Plaintiff is a member of the Class she seeks to represent. Plaintiff's 2 individual and the Settlement Class's claims arise from the same alleged 3 misconduct of Defendants' falsely labeling and advertising Pure Via. Moreover, 4 Plaintiff has sought and obtained remedies equally applicable and beneficial to the 5 Settlement Class as to herself. Thus, Plaintiff shares the same claims and interest 6 in obtaining relief as all other Settlement Class members and has no conflicts of 7 interests with other Settlement Class members. Plaintiff has demonstrated her 8 adequacy by diligently advancing this litigation, including achievement of the 9 proposed Settlement that is presently before the Court. Further, Plaintiff has 10 selected highly experienced complex class action attorneys, who have qualified as 11 lead counsel in other class actions and have a proven track record of successful 12 prosecution of significant class actions. Lawrence Decl., ¶17. Thus, the adequacy 13 of representation requirement is satisfied. As such, Plaintiff respectfully requests 14 she be appointed Class Representative.

15 D. The Settlement Class Satisfies the Requirements of Rule 23(b)(3)

16 Plaintiff seeks to have the proposed Settlement Class certified pursuant to 17 Rule 23(b)(3), as: (1) common questions of law or fact will predominate over 18 questions affecting only individual members; and (2) a class action is "superior to 19 other available methods" of adjudicating the case. Fed. R. Civ. P 23(b)(3).

20 1. Common Legal and Factual Questions Predominate

21 With regard to Rule 23(b)(3) predominance, the court analyzes whether the 22 "proposed classes are sufficiently cohesive to warrant adjudication by 23 representation." Amchem, 521 U.S. at 623. As stated by the Supreme Court, the 24 "[p]redominance is a test readily met in certain cases alleging consumer . . . fraud .
25 . . ." Id. at 625.

26 The central issues in this litigation with respect to the Settlement Class arise 27 out of Plaintiff's efforts to remedy a common legal grievance concerning

1 Defendants' marketing and sale of Pure Via. Common, predominant questions 2 include whether Defendants are responsible for one or more of the violations of 3 law of which Plaintiff complains and whether Plaintiff is entitled to injunctive and 4 monetary relief. Because these overriding questions focus on Defendants' conduct 5 – and not on Plaintiff's conduct – and because they concern the core question of 6 liability, they are predominant. See Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 7 1022 (9th Cir. 1998). The proposed Settlement accomplishes Plaintiff's goal – 8 namely, it resolves and settles with finality all of the claims asserted against 9 Defendants. Thus, predominance is satisfied. See, e.g., Weeks v. Kellogg Co., CV 10 09-08102 (MMM)(RZX), 2013 WL 6531177, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 23, 2013); 11 Nigh, 2013 WL 5995382, at *5.

12 2. A Class Action Is the Superior Means to Adjudicate 13 the Claims

14 Rule 23(b)(3) sets forth factors for determining whether “a class action [is] 15 superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the 16 controversy.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3). Rule 23(b)(3)'s four “superiority” factors 17 weigh heavily in favor of class certification here. Defendants have made clear 18 that should this settlement not be approved, they intend to vigorously defend 19 against the claims, making individual actions difficult. Liability in this Action will 20 turn on whether Defendants' labeling message is likely to deceive the reasonable 21 consumer. Because establishing this for one Class member is the same as for any 22 other, judicial efficiency weighs in favor of a class action. Likewise, it is not 23 economically feasible for the many thousands of Settlement Class members to 24 pursue their claims against Defendants on an individual basis given the average 25 retail price of Pure Via compared to the expense of establishing these claims.
26 Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1023. Here, a class action is superior to individual suits. See,

1 e.g., Weeks, 2013 WL 6531177, at *9. In sum, the Court should conditionally
2 certify the Settlement Class under Rule 23(a) and (b)(3).

3 E. The Court Should Appoint Class Counsel for the Settlement Class

4 Rule 23(g)(1) requires the Court to appoint counsel to represent the interests
5 of the class. For the reasons stated above in connection with the adequacy 6 requirements of Rule 23(a)(4), and as has been demonstrated thus far in this 7 litigation, the law firms retained by Plaintiff to prosecute this class action are “well 8 equipped” to vigorously, competently, and efficiently represent the Settlement 9 Class. Lawrence Decl., ¶17. Accordingly, the Court should appoint Scott+Scott, 10 Attorneys at Law, LLP and the Wood Law Firm, LLC as Class Counsel for the 11 Settlement Class.

12 V. THE COURT SHOULD APPROVE THE PROPOSED NOTICE PLAN

13 Rule 23(e) provides that “[t]he court must direct notice in a reasonable 14 manner to all class members who would be bound by” a proposed settlement. Fed.
15 R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1). In addition, “[f]or any class certified under Rule 23(b)(3), the 16 court must direct to class members the best notice that is practicable under the 17 circumstances, including individual notice to all members who can be identified 18 through reasonable effort.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B).

19 A. The Notice Plan

20 The Parties have developed a robust notice program that includes: (a) 21 published notice through the use of paid print media; (b) web-based notice using 22 paid banner ads on targeted websites; (c) additional web-based notice using 23 “keyword” searches displaying banner ads; (d) social media ads targeting relevant 24 interest areas; (e) national media through the issuing of a press release distributed 25 nationwide through PR Newswire; (f) a dedicated, informational website through 26 which Settlement Class Members can obtain more detailed information about the 27 Settlement and access case documents; (g) direct mail notice to individuals who

1 have previously contacted Defendants about Pure Via Consumer Products for 2 whom Defendants have a mailing address; and (h) a toll-free telephone helpline by 3 which Settlement Class Members can obtain additional information about the 4 Settlement and request a Class Notice and/or Claim Form. Dahl Decl., ¶14.
5 Further, pursuant to CAFA, notice of the Settlement will be mailed to state 6 Attorneys General, the United States Attorney General, and the United States
7 CAFA Coordinator. (§5.1(b)). The Notice Plan has been designed to obtain over 8 82 million individual print and digital impressions targeted to approximately 40 9 million persons in order to achieve sufficient scale and impression frequency to 10 target the over one million class members. (Dahl Aff., ¶15).

11 B. The Proposed Method of Notice is Appropriate

12 The method proposed for providing notice to Class members is “reasonable” 13 and should be approved. Notice to the Class will be commenced seven days after 14 entry of the Preliminary Approval Order. The Notice will be provided to Class 15 members so that they have sufficient time to decide whether to participate in the 16 settlement, object, or opt out. Courts routinely find that similar comprehensive 17 notice programs meet the requirements of due process and Rule 23. See, e.g., 18 Arnold v. Fitflop USA, LLC, 11-CV-0973 W (KSC), 2014 WL 1670133, at *4-5
19 (S.D. Cal. Apr. 28, 2014).

20 C. The Proposed Content of Notice Is Adequate

21 The contents of the notice to class members “is satisfactory if it “generally 22 describes the terms of the settlement in sufficient detail to alert those with adverse 23 viewpoints to investigate and to come forward and be heard.”” Rodriguez v. West, 24 563 F.3d 948, 962 (9th Cir. 2009).

25 Here, the proposed Notices provide this “sufficient detail.” Together, they 26 define the Class, explain all Settlement Class Member rights, releases, and 27 applicable deadlines, and describe in detail the injunctive and monetary terms of

1 the settlement, including the procedures for allocating and distributing settlement 2 funds among the Settlement Class Members. They plainly indicate the time and 3 place of the hearing to consider approval of the settlement, and the method for 4 objecting to or opting out of the settlement. They detail the provisions for payment 5 of attorneys' fees and incentive awards to the class representatives, and provide 6 contact information for the putative Class Counsel. This comports with settlement 7 notices upheld in other cases. See, e.g., In re Wells Fargo Loan Processor 8 Overtime Pay Litig., MDL Docket No. C-07-1841(EMC), 2011 WL 3352460, at 9 *4 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 2, 2011).

10 VI. PROPOSED SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

11 The last step in the settlement approval process is to hold a final fairness 12 hearing at which the Court may hear all evidence and arguments necessary to make 13 the settlement evaluation. Proponents of the settlement may explain the terms and 14 conditions of the settlement and offer argument in support of final approval. In 15 addition, settlement class members, or their counsel, may be heard in support of or 16 in opposition to the Settlement Agreement. The Court will determine after the 17 Final Approval Hearing whether the settlement should be approved, and whether to 18 enter a final order and judgment under Rule 23(e). Plaintiff proposes the schedule 19 of events set forth in the proposed Preliminary Approval Order submitted herewith.
20 That schedule is reasonable and provides due process for Settlement Class 21 Members with respect to their Settlement rights.

22 VII. CONCLUSION

23 For the foregoing reasons, the Court should preliminarily approve Plaintiff's 24 Settlement with Defendants; conditionally certify the Settlement Class and appoint 25 Plaintiff as representative of the proposed Settlement Class; approve the manner 26 and form of notice to be furnished to conditional Settlement Class members; 27 approve Plaintiff's selection of Class Counsel; and schedule a fairness hearing

1 under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e)(1)(C) for the purpose of determining 2 whether the Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate and, therefore, deserving 3 of final approval.
